

FOR PROTECTION IN CASE OF NEED WAS STATEMENT GIVEN

PRESIDENT TAFT SENDS MESSAGE TO THE CUBAN PRESIDENT TODAY.

GOMEZ SATISFIED NOW

Vessels Rushed to the Cuban Coast to Await Developments and Be Prepared for Emergencies.

Washington, May 27.—Feeling assured that President Gomez has understood the purpose of the American government in dispatching the large naval force now on its way to Key West, the state department, after having instructed American Minister Beaupre, at Havana, to make plain to the Cuban government the purpose of the movement, now has left to the discretion of Col. Karmany, commanding the marine force en route to the cruiser Prarie and due at Guantanamo tomorrow, the extent to which the marines shall be employed.

It is believed that as soon as President Gomez has made aware of the fact that there is no sinister purpose behind the movements of the naval vessels and that their commanders will do nothing more than to use their forces to prevent injury to American lives and property, he will no longer object.

Situation Critical.

It is appreciated here that the Cuban president must assume a rather resentful attitude toward what might appear to be an invasion of the land, less the patriotism of the Cubans be stirred to resistance.

Should he persist in his objection, however, American naval commanders will not remain indifferent to the demands of Americans for protection where it is clear the Cuban government cannot provide it.

Admiral Custer's expeditionary fleet, which is at Key West on Wednesday, will move at once into Cuban waters unless something happens to prevent this.

President Taft today replied to President Gomez's telegram of yesterday regarding the attitude of the United States toward Cuba. He declared the American government's activity in mobilizing war vessels at Key West and dispatching the Prarie with marines to Guantanamo was not in any sense an intervention move.

Taft's Message.

The following is the text of the message:

"I am 'gratefully' grateful to learn of your government's energetic measure to put down the disturbance and to know you are confident of being successful."

"As was fully explained to the Cuban charge d'affaires here, this government's motive in sending ships to Key West was merely to be able to act promptly in case of emergency to protect American life and property by rendering moral support."

"As was made quite clear at the time these ordinary measures of caution were entirely disassociated from any question of intervention."

To Be Prepared.

The senate committee on Cuban relations today directed Senator Page of Vermont, the chairman, to confer with President Taft regarding necessary recommendations for legislation to provide direct and clear provisions of law governing when and how the United States may intervene in Cuba under the so-called Platt amendment.

ARMY BILL REPORT HITS GENERAL WOOD

Measure With Anti-Administration Amendments Would Do Away With Major-General as Chief of Staff.

Washington, May 27.—The army appropriation bill was reported back to the senate and house today by the conference with anti-administration amendments which would legislate Major-General Wood out of office as chief of staff and would leave the location of a commission of retired army officers and two members each of the senate and house committee on military affairs. The amendment which would remove General Wood also would prevent either Bricker or Gurnea from ever attaining the office of chief of staff.

SAY EXPRESS RATES WILL BE DECREASED

Coming Decision of State and Interstate Railway Commissions to Affect Wisconsin Rates.

Madison, Wis., May 27.—Lower express rates are predicted from two forthcoming decisions affecting rates in the middle west—one by the interstate commerce commission and the other by the Wisconsin railroad commission. It is believed both will be announced soon.

The complaints of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee have been pending before the state body for two years. It is directed against all express companies operating in Wisconsin. Attorney Walter Drow of this city, attorney for the association, says that the express companies' scale for Wisconsin ranges from 1.1 percent to 5.8 percent higher than the Minnesota commission scale for the same distance.

"The only reason for the great difference in express rates in the two states," he says, "is that heretofore express rates have not been brought under the corrective influence of Wisconsin's busy commission."

The decision of the interstate commerce commission will, it is believed, make the interstate rates into Wisconsin uniform and the state commission will adjust and make reasonable interstate shipments.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PREVENT RIOTS IN LONDON STRIKE

Police Guard Laborers Who Take Place of Transport Workers in Carrying Supplies From Docks.

London, May 27.—Although everything is proceeding with utmost quietness in the vicinity of the docks, the police took precautions today to insure the safe transportation of meat which has been tied up as the result of the riverside laborers' strike. As it was necessary to move large quantities of food supplies a detachment of police reserves were sent to the landing by the police. By the adoption of many ruses the retailers of the Cornish Garden market and many retail storekeepers secured supplies. Some of them conveyed meat and vegetables in cabs from the docks to their shops.

Officials of the transportation union have not gone beyond the peaceful picketing allowed by the law in their endeavors to bring out every man employed in transport work. The men are responding generally to the appeal of their striking brothers to join them and at the Cornish Garden practically all of the unionists, which however are in the minority, have thrown down their tools.

Army Exposed.

Washington, May 27.—Military students of the revolution in Mexico believe that Gen. Huerta, in command of the federal army in the north has placed his force in a perilous position in the execution of his pursuit of the defeated army of Carranza after the battle of Saltillo.

The long line of communication running from the City of Mexico northward to Coahuila is exposed to the danger of complete disruption at the hands of a force of about two thousand rebels which suddenly has developed its presence just west of Torreon and many miles south of Gen. Huerta's advance guard.

Rebels Active.

The state department learned today that apparently aroused to the danger of this situation the federal government has dispatched a considerable force to prevent a raid by this rebel army which is under the lead of Gen. Chumpe a daring cavalry officer. The two armies have been in collision at Loma a few miles west of Torreon on the railway to Durango but the result of the encounter is not yet known.

STATE COMMISSION OPPOSES NEW RATES

Members of Wisconsin Railway Commission in Chicago to Protest at Western Classification Schedules.

Madison, Wis., May 27.—Members of the Wisconsin railway commission are in Chicago today to attend a hearing before a representative of the interstate commerce commission in reference to the proposed Western Classification schedules for freight which the railroad are seeking to have approved. The Wisconsin commission has refused to adopt the new western classifications and has joined with the railroad commissions of seventeen other states protesting against its adoption by the interstate commerce commission. The members of the Wisconsin commission have been especially active in protesting against the proposed changes and have filed figures and other data to substantiate their side of the case.

While the proposed change is ostensibly a method of fixing a uniform classification system for the western states, according to the brief filed by the Wisconsin and other commissions a large number of advances in freight rates both for minimum and carload shipments is attempted.

"From the principle thus stated and from the facts presented in connection therewith," says the railroad commission's brief, "it is clear that carriers are not justified either on legal, economic or equitable grounds to so adjust their rates, classifications and tariffs that a few shippers only can avail themselves of the advantages that are offered therein. It is our firm conviction that no sweeping changes in railroad minimums throughout this country should be permitted, until after an exhaustive investigation as to the demands of commerce, the average loading and traffic conditions generally."

"All the object of time there are several classifications in effect in the United States. Many people desire to secure a uniform classification over the entire country. But we do not want to pay too high for that change. There are such things as uniformly high rates. If the railway companies have used the argument for uniformity, which may be entirely right and proper, as a pretext to increase the rate in this part of the country, then their action must be condemned."

A committee chosen from the eight railroad commissions in western states, composed of Harold E. Johnson of Wisconsin, Clifford Thorne, E. W. Dougherty, George A. Henshaw and Dr. H. Mills, representing other states, declared in its statement that there should be an actual review of every material change, with full opportunity to investigate the grounds for such changes.

As the race is for non-stock cars and the maximum system of six hundred cubic inches it has permitted the owners of American, German, French and Italian cars that have entered, to set in eagerness of enormous strength with the assurance that the speed test will be met.

TO HOLD EXERCISES TOMORROW EVENING

Memorial Day Program at School for Blind Will Include Address by H. W. Road, G. A. R. Lecturer.

The State School for the Blind will have their Decoration Day exercises Tuesday evening, May 28th, at 7:30 p. m. The exercises are held one day earlier this year because on that day they were able to secure Mr. H. W. Road, Patriotic Instructor, G. A. R. Department, Wisconsin. Mr. Road will give an illustrated lecture "The History and Meaning of Our Flag." There has been some comment on the possibility of an illustrated lecture given to the pupils of the school for the blind. However, 50 per cent of the pupils at this institution have some vision, and the others see through their fingers which even seeing people do not get. Most of the blind pupils are very capable, and except for the fact that they use their fingers instead of their eyes, they learn just the same as seeing children, and Superintendent Hooper reports that the method of handling them is just exactly the same as that of handling seeing children.

The one thing that Mr. Hooper has been most agreeably surprised in is the fact that most of the blind children learn just as readily and acquire things in just the same way as the children that he has been accustomed to handle in the public schools of this state. The only difference is that some of the information is acquired through different channels.

The lecture Tuesday evening will be a very interesting and instructive speaker, and a man whose heart and soul is wrapped up in this work. He is an old soldier who has seen real service, has had a large experience as a teacher and is a genuine enthusiastic man. The lecture is free and will be open to the public. The exercises begin at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

FINAL ARGUMENTS BY CANDIDATES; TAFT CONFIDENT

New Jersey Campaign Closes With Bitter Arguments Presented.

Newark, N. J., May 27.—This was another day of hard fighting and speech making for President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt. Tomorrow New Jersey will elect her twenty-eight candidates to the National Convention and the last full day of the primary campaign was utilized by both candidates to its last hours.

Bill Boards Used.

Many other signs besides the trips of the candidates made it apparent that the state was at the crisis of a big political battle. The billboards which stretched for miles along the highways out of New York flamed with political posters. Newspapers are full of political advertising and campaign literature has been distributed by the ton.

Roosevelt's Trip.

Colonel Roosevelt started from Oyster Bay early this morning for what may be his last day of campaigning before the national convention. Unless he decides to go to South Dakota, it was said the Colonel might not speak again.

Later it was said that if President Taft spoke there he might go, but that the President's intentions were unknown. Colonel Roosevelt itinerarily included a number of the large towns in the central part of the state and tonight he expects to wind up the campaign at Princeton where he will speak from a platform at Princeton Inn.

Taft's Routine.

Mr. Taft will continue his campaign up until the polls opened at one o'clock tomorrow. Today he started from New York where he spent Sunday and started on his tour along the Atlantic Coast. His day's work will end at Atlantic City, where he will spend the night.

Wilson's Plans.

Governor Wilson may make his last speech before the primary tonight. This morning the Woodrow Wilson Club of the university at Princeton, planned a torch light procession which would form in parades and march to the governor's house and call him to his front porch.

Optimistic.

Peth Ambey, N. J., May 27.—President Taft continued to fire hot shots at Col. Roosevelt and asked the New Jersey voters to give him a square deal. United States Senator Briggs of New Jersey, chairman of the republican state committee, today gave out the following statement: "I believe the President will carry the solid delegation with, perhaps the exception of two districts, and in these districts we have an excellent chance."

"The president said that 'in his heart' he believed Mr. Roosevelt would be defeated."

Defends Position.

Morristown, N. J., May 27.—Col. Roosevelt, speaking here today, said: "Recently Mr. Taft has dwelt upon the fact that my administration left a deficit," said the colonel. "I can say that by taking only one year and omitting the other six and one-half. During my administration we paid up a surplus of between two hundred and three hundred million dollars. We paid a large part of the money used on the Panama canal without a bond issue."

CHESTER BREWER IS TALKED OF FOR THE POSITION AS COACH

Former Janesville Resident is Suggested as Possible Successor of Elg John Richards at Madison.

Efforts to fill the vacancy of football coach caused by the resignation of "Big John" Richards at the state university has brought to the front names of many possibilities. One of those being most prominently mentioned is Chester Brewer, a former Janesville resident, at present athletic director at the University of Missouri. Mr. Brewer went to Missouri a year ago after several years' service in a similar position at the Michigan state agricultural college at Lansing, and has proved to be an adept at handling students and making teams that win.

Some years ago when the coach question came up Mr. Brewer was discussed as a possibility but another system was tried which precluded the possibility of his selection. It is not known whether Brewer has signified his aspiration for the Madison job or not. His wife and children are now visiting in the city, at the home of Mrs. Brewer's mother, Mrs. Leanne Brownell. Mr. Brewer himself will be in Janesville after the middle of June.

"Germany" Schultz, all-American center while a member of the Michigan football team several years back, is another possibility to succeed John I. Richards. The former Wolverino has made application to the board of regents for the position which Richards will leave at the close of the present college year, and he has come to Madison to confer with President Van Hise and the athletic department relative to the position.

While no recommendations will be made public until the regents meet in June to consider the coaching situation, it is understood that Schultz will have the backing of President Van Hise and Director Elmer. "Germany" coached the Badger line last fall and is given the credit for the stone-wall defense which characterized the play of Wisconsin throughout the season. Coach Richards especially was pleased with the work done by the former Michigan star, and will recommend Schultz as his successor.

Twelve applications for the coaching position have been received by Director Elmer and have been turned over to President Van Hise and the board of regents. The names of the applicants have not been given out by the Badger director but it is known that Edward B. Cochran, the old Wisconsin halfback, and Hugo Rozek, coach at the University of Arkansas, have sent in their recommendations.

That the alumni of the university will have a voice in the selection of a football coach became evident this week when a special meeting of the board of regents was called by President James F. Trotman of Milwaukee for June 1, for the purpose of considering the athletic situation. During the past ten days President Trotman has been in communication with the various alumni associations of the state and nearby states in an effort to sound the feelings of the alumni relative to the conduct of the athletic department. A meeting was held in Chicago last week, which was attended by President Trotman, President Lynn S. Penn of the Milwaukee Alumni association, President J. S. Wray of the Chicago Alumni association, President Ochsen of the general alumni association, and Vernon Mason of Madison.

MAY LOCATE MISSING WOMAN THROUGH STORY PUBLISHED IN THE COLUMNS OF THE GAZETTE

In answer to the inquiry made through the columns of The Gazette as to the whereabouts of Mrs. Mary A. Smith, widow of the late Thomas Smith, formerly of the town of Harmon, Postmaster Valentini has received a letter from a relative of Mr. Smith in Hammond, Ind., relative to the matter. The letter is as follows:

"Mr. Valentini,
"Dear Sir:—
"I am by the Janesville Gazette that you are seeking relatives of the late Thomas Smith. His widow was at Providence, R. I., some twenty-five years ago, but I will find out if she is dead or not. Thomas Smith was my father's brother. He had a son, Johnnie Smith, so I will write my brother, E. E. Smith of Delavan Road, rural route 3. (He can tell you all about our uncle Thomas. Mary A. Smith is her name.
Respectfully,
Margaret Smith Duggan,
276 Sibley St."

SURELY SEEMED LIKE IT.

Bobby had endeavored to remove a glass of jam from the closet-shelf. The glass had slipped from his fingers and crashed to the floor, making a sad noise. "Oh, my!" said Bobby, when the speech of which horror had deprived him had returned. "O my! Some one's been monkey'n with that jam!"

STORES ARE PROFIT SHARING INSTITUTIONS

By W. C. Kenaga.

The problem of merchandising is not merely a problem of moving merchandise at a certain cost, but involves the economy of moving the merchandise through the medium of an average sales force.

Because business tended too much to one or two days of the week thereby requiring additional sales people on those days and the maintenance of an average sales force other days, many Janesville merchants have made their stores profit-sharing institutions by offering special bargains for "off" days to encourage buyers to thus even up trade.

Readers of advertising have been quick to perceive and grasp the opportunity for savings and the merchants have been able not only to hold down the cost of merchandising but to render more efficient service as well.

Edgerton, May 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marsden, surrounded by their children and grandchildren, numbering about twenty, yesterday, in a quiet manner celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Cullen street. About one o'clock an elaborate four-course dinner was enjoyed. The only ones present from a distance was the son, Dr. Arthur Marsden and wife of Elia, and Wilson Marsden, a near relative residing at Wilkesbarre, Pa. Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Schomfeld were also present. Numerous elegant gifts were bestowed upon the worthy couple. It was first intended to make the occasion a more largely attended one, but owing to the serious condition of Mr. Marsden, it was thought best to confine the attendance to near relatives only. Mr. Marsden spent his early life on Albin Prairie and Mrs. Marsden in the town of Sumner, Jefferson county.

Fifty years ago yesterday, the couple drove to Janesville in a lumber wagon and spent of miles where they were married. For many years they resided and carried on a farm on Albin Prairie and retiring from same twenty-five years ago, they moved to this city and have resided here since.

Observe Memorial Sunday.
Yesterday morning the Methodist and Congregational church congregations united in union Memorial services at the latter church. The members of H. S. Swift Post G. A. R. were present in a body. Rev. Martin of the Methodist church delivered the address, taking for his text Revelation 2:10, "Be Thou Faithful unto Death and I Will Give Thee a Crown of Life." It was a masterly address, the speaker referring in glowing terms to the soldiers of '61 and also referred to the work to be done by the soldiers of the cross.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

At St. Joseph's Catholic church last night was gathered a large audience to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered to the graduating class of twenty-six by Rev. J. E. Harlin. Thanking the class for the honor conferred to him Father Harlin proceeded and delivered in flowing language a strong, able and masterly address, the like of which has not been heard in many years. The address was listened to throughout with close attention and with special music by the choir marked the occasion a most fitting one.

May 27, 1912.—A great area of low atmospheric pressure occupies the center of the continent today. It has caused showers and thunderstorms from the Lake Region westward to the Pacific, and southward throughout the Missouri Valley. The temperature has risen throughout the Central states, under the southerly winds flowing into the center of this disturbance. Maxima of 94 to 96 degrees were reached on the Plains yesterday, and similar temperatures will prevail in the middle Mississippi valley today.

Everything of Some Good.
Since 'folies teach wisdom, misfortune prove to be joys and losses are often our gain. It would seem as if everything in the world is for good after all.

SURFACE PROPHECIES.

President Taft is confident that he already has delegates enough to nominate him, and that the outcome in New Jersey is of little importance.

Colonel Roosevelt is equally confident, while Senator La Follette is making a blind chance on what may happen, in case of a deadlock.

There's nothing quite so uncertain as a pre-convention prophecy, and but for the bull-dog tenacity of the President and his rival a compromise candidate would be among the probabilities. This is not likely to happen as Mr. Roosevelt is confident that the rank and file of the party want him, and the chances are that he will be a candidate, regardless of the action of the Chicago convention.

If the statement had been made, four years ago, that the retiring and incoming president would be engaged in a battle royal in 1912, it would have fallen on deaf ears. Mr. Roosevelt was retiring from office with all the honors possible for the people to confer, including permission to select his successor. Mr. Taft, the life-long friend, was chosen to wear the mantle and the people were satisfied.

The history of what followed is of such recent date that it is very familiar, but the motive which prompted the Colonel to pursue the policy adopted, is too subtle for the average mind to comprehend. Friendship is forgotten, the party which placed him on the pinnacle of fame, is ignored, and by his hand engulfed in the most unbecomingly political fight which ever disgraced the nation.

It is among the possibilities that the future may vindicate his action, but it is more than probable that he will go down to defeat with the wreckage of the party which had the right to expect better things of him. The deep current of public sentiment has not yet been touched. It is never affected by noise and clamor, but it believes in loyalty and justice, and when the time comes will so assert itself.

WHY NOT CARY?

If the taxpayers of the state really want to shake off the octopus, and reform the reformers, why don't they get together, regardless of party, and nominate State Superintendent C. P. Cary for governor?

Mr. Cary possesses a fund of inside knowledge that could be used to good advantage in a campaign, and under his leadership the issues would be so well defined that arguments would be very convincing. The high standing and clean record of the state superintendent, and his courageous attacks on corruption and extravagance make him a most available candidate.

The political managers which invaded Ohio early last week, have transferred its activities to Little New Jersey, and the state people of that old commonwealth are being entertained with brass music and oratorical fireworks. Governor Woodrow Wilson is an interested spectator, and is picking up some valuable information about how to conduct a campaign. The three-ring circus pulls off so many stunts, that all of the spectators get the worth of their money. The aggregation will come west shortly and the closing performance will be given under the big tent in Chicago.

The last issue of the "Commoner" is largely devoted to Bryan vs. Bryan. The magic name of the Nebraska statesman appears twenty-six times in a leading article on the first page, and it stands out prominently on every other page of the paper. He has been his own reported, while touring the country, for the past six weeks, and everything said has been faithfully recorded in the home paper. If you don't believe it pays to advertise, wait and see what happens at Baltimore.

The trial of Clarence Darrow, now on at Los Angeles, promises to disclose some startling secrets, which may involve a number of prominent labor leaders. Darrow is accused of bribery in the McNamara brothers' defense. The extravagant use of money, contributed by labor organizations, and an unsatisfactory accounting made him unpopular in the labor world, and many old-time friends have forsaken him.

The smoking of a cigar is said to have cost the Rev. Benjamin Young of Portland, Oregon, a place on the Board of Bishops of the Methodist church. His vote, which had been close to the winning mark, dropped to below the freezing point, when the report of his smoking. Methodist preachers have been given to understand that they must be satisfied to do their smoking second hand.

So much has been said about the high death rate, due to railway accidents, that the impression prevails to large extent that these corporations are responsible for much of the mortality, but statistics show that in the state of Indiana last year, more people committed suicide than were killed in railroad accidents. Corporations may be soulless but they never deliberately plan murder.

Sumner Curtis, the Washington correspondent of the Record-Herald, predicts that if Roosevelt is defeated in the Chicago convention, he will bolt the party and run independent. The primary campaign, now at white heat, indicates that a compromise is out of the question. The life of the republican party is in the balance, and it remains to be seen whether it shall be preserved.

The democrats are so busy watching the Taft-Roosevelt motion that but little attention is given to their own campaign. Mr. Bryan is about the only active member, and he says that he is not a candidate, yet the Baltimore convention would be a tame affair with Bryan left out. He will be there, close to the front, ready for any emergency.

WEST GIVES ADVICE ON SPRAYING TREES

Wormy Apples Can Be Avoided by Poisoning Larvae Before Calyx of Flower Closes—Protecting Bees.

Allen H. West, writing to the Gazette from Lake Mills, states that the larvae of the codling moth are now hatching and eating the leaves of the apple trees. They will soon enter the fruit as it sets, causing the apples to be wormy, unless poisoned before the calyx of the blossom closes.

The plum gouger and plum curculio are also on the plum and cherry trees ready to sting or gouge the setting plums and cherries. Poison applied by spraying is the best preventive. As soon as the petals fall the danger of poisoning the bees in past and the second spray should be applied to the orchard trees. Use Bordeaux mixture, 4-5-50, and add one-half pound of Paris green to fifty gallons of the mixture, or a heaping teaspoonful to each three gallon pailful. This can be done most conveniently by first making a thin paste of the Paris green, and mixing it with the spray just before it is applied to the trees.

Having the spraying done thoroughly on all sides of the trees and in a fine mist on a day that promises fair weather. Spray again in about ten days, using the same spray.

The currant and gooseberry bushes need attention too, during the wet days in May and June. The sawfly is around laying her eggs and perhaps by this time they have begun to hatch into the so-called currant worm. This worm eats off the leaves rapidly and will speedily destroy the crop unless the bushes are sprayed with a poisonous solution. The same mixture prescribed for apple and plum trees can be used for this purpose with good success. Spray with Paris green in a solution of lime, or having Bordeaux mixture prepared use that with the Paris green added.

This worm eats off the leaves rapidly and will speedily destroy the crop unless the bushes are sprayed with a poisonous solution. The same mixture prescribed for apple and plum trees can be used for this purpose with good success. Spray with Paris green in a solution of lime, or having Bordeaux mixture prepared use that with the Paris green added.

COMPLAINS OF CONDITION OF ROAD TO CEMETERY.

W. T. Shearer, President of Oak Hill Cemetery Association Makes Protest to Council.

Complaint as to the condition of North Washington street, was made to the council this morning by W. T. Shearer, president of the Oak Hill Cemetery association. He declares that it is in such bad shape that it is unsafe to travel. Carriages in turning out of the car tracks can very easily be tipped over and accidents have been narrowly averted. Steps toward improving the street have already been taken, the Council at a recent meeting passing orders to Ashland avenue and to reinforce with macadam and gravel from Mineral Point avenue to the city limits. The Cemetery Association will install two sanitary fountains at the cemetery in time for Memorial day.

THROWN AND INJURED; MOTORCYCLE SKIDDED

Joseph Schuren of Beloit Had Accident Yesterday While Testing Machine on Fair Grounds

Track

Joseph Schuren, proprietor of a cycle supply store in Beloit, was thrown about fifteen feet, and sustained painful injuries yesterday while testing out on the Fair Grounds race track skidded, Schuren, to save himself and his machine as much as possible, shut off the power and turned his machine toward a small tree when he found that it was becoming unmanageable. As it left the track he was thrown from his seat, the handle bars catching him just underneath his ribs. The injured man was taken to Mercy hospital in the automobile of Dr. T. W. Nuzum and an examination made. His left forefinger was broken and he suffered severe pain from striking on his head, and also in the abdomen, but will probably be able to leave the hospital in a day or two. The accident is attributed to the use of smooth worn tires on curves at high speed. The front fork of the motorcycle was bent.

OFFICERS CHAMPION AND DORAN HAVE BUSY DAY
Crowds Besiege Brown Bros. Store Necessitating Attention of Police Officers to Keep Them in Line.

Last Saturday will go down in the annals of merchandising history as the biggest day in the shoe business ever held in Janesville. Long before the doors of Brown Bros. store opened in the morning prospective buyers, eager to take advantage of the extremely low prices, were clamoring to enter the store. When the doors were opened at 8:00 o'clock the rush was so great that it was impossible to serve the throngs and crowd. Officers Doran and Champion were sent for to come and hold the crowd in check. The doors were finally forced shut and those persons inside the store waited on and departed another was let in to his place. There were many customers who were unable to get attention and had to go away disappointed. Sales Manager A. C. Cleveland has arranged now for an extra force of clerks and believes that he will be well able to cope with any rush of business. The stock is still in splendid shape and the prices are such that everyone who has need for shoes will do well to take advantage of them.

SURVEYING PARTIES HAVE STARTED WORK

Force of Nineteen Men Engaged in Obtaining Information With Regard to Rock River, in City.

United States Engineer H. E. Reeves, in charge of the Rock river survey, has started work with a force of nineteen men, all of whom, excepting two, are from outside the city. The local members, engaged as roadmen, are Norman Field and Frank Baker. The hydrographic, topographic, and triangulation parties have begun taking observations, but the level party is at present awaiting the topographic party as there is a large amount of detail to be noted between the dam and the Court street bridge. Four triangulation stations have been established: one at the court house, one at the School for the Blind, and two on the bluffs on the west side of the river. The hydrographic party is working between the upper dam and the Milwaukee street bridge. A member of the party is still stationed in each of the county recorder's and the city engineer's offices, copying plans, old surveys, and records of corners.

ATTACKS ALLEGED DEBTOR; PLACED UNDER ARREST

Ike Douglas, Colored Man, Tries Forceful But Inefficient Means to Collect a Debt.

Ike Douglas, a colored man employed in a barber shop west of the river, was placed under arrest this morning for making an attack on another colored man whom he claimed owned him four dollars and refused to pay him. Douglas is alleged to have had a knife in his hand and to have accidentally cut his hand with it, but did not use it on the man he attacked. Officer Patrick Manning, who arrested Douglas, found a pint bottle of whiskey on his person, which was probably the real source of the trouble.

NEW YORK POLICE FORM A TAXICAB SQUADRON

Authorities Organize to Make Fight Against Army of Crooks Employed as Chauffeurs.

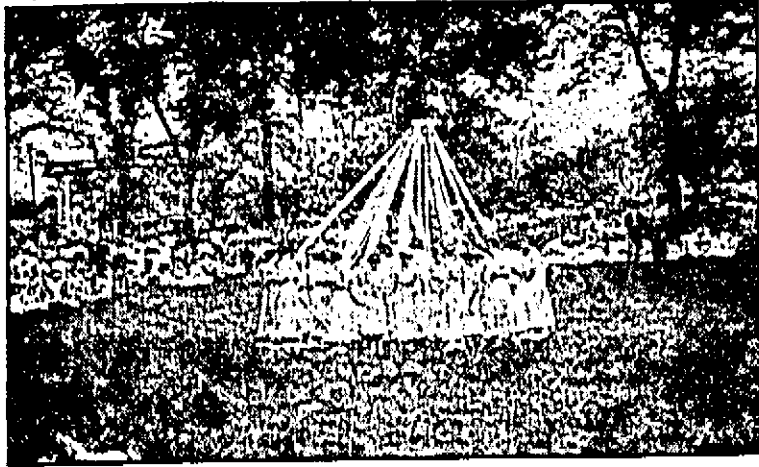

New York, May 26.—The number of crooks and criminals working as chauffeurs on taxicabs in this city has caused the police department to organize a taxicab squadron to put a check on the crime and violence in which taxicabs play a part.

Murders, hold-ups and robbery have been numerous and the police have found that about two hundred men here with either prison or police records have obtained chauffeur licenses in the state. In some cases the police have found that certain garages are owned by men who have police reputations.

Memorial Day, F. O. E. Convention, July Fourth, all call for flags for decorative purposes. You ought to have one or two and display your patriotism and civic pride by using them whenever such occasions as above mentioned are being celebrated.

The price quoted on these flags is very much less than usually asked for flags the same quality. We've quite a supply of these flags; but they won't last long at this price; you'd better get yours now.

TODAY'S EVANSVILLE NEWS

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN FOR MRS. GEORGE LEYDA

Mrs. H. A. Langemak Entertained in Her Honor at Dinner Friday Evening—Evansville News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, May 27.—A very pretty farewell banquet was tendered Mrs. George Leyda, Friday, by Mrs. H. A. Langemak, who invited a few mutual friends to "break bread" once more with this popular lady, who has made many warm friends during her residence in this city, and who are all sorry to lose her society. Mrs. Leyda leaves very soon with her children to join her husband at Mason City, Ia., where the family will make their future home.

The guests present were: Mrs. Frank Franklyn, Mrs. John Honeywell, Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Lupton, all of Evansville, and Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Geo. Fisher and Mrs. Peter Smith, all of Evansville. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent and will be one of the cherished memories which Mrs. Leyda will carry to her new home. Miss Audrey Franklin visited several days last week with friends in Madison. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grentsinger were Janesville visitors Saturday. Mrs. Lee Worthing was a Calumet visitor Saturday. Miss Marjorie Silverthorn spent Sunday with Madison friends. Dan and Townsend delivered a new Ford auto to Frank Van Patten, Saturday. The baseball game Saturday between the 4-C college team of Madison and the Evansville Y. M. C. A. resulted in a score of 1 to 0 in favor of Evansville. Several of the parties who went out on pleasure excursions Sunday were caught in the rain before they could reach home. Mrs. Frank Franklyn accompanied her husband on a four days' business trip last week. Passing through Ridgeway they stopped for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morgan. Mr. Franklyn travels by auto. James Gillies has a new Ford auto which was delivered to him on Saturday. Bert Dunn went to Beloit on business Saturday afternoon. George Achenbach has begun work on his new residence on Montgomery Court.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA ROYD

The Graduate and the Creative Life

THE graduate is stepping forth into a new life. She is taking her place now in the army of those who must bear the burden and heat of the day. The season of preparation is over. The season of rest from labor is still far distant. Upon her and others like her depend now the trend of the times. Those who have been working will, one by one, drop out; and she and her fellows must take up the duties and responsibilities these predecessors drop.

Naturally, the graduate wants to live as happy a life as possible. To her, success and happiness are one. The years may prove her wrong in this. But her choice now is undoubtedly happiness.

So, as she steps forward into her place in the world, with her heart glowing with high ideals, and with the normal craving of her spirit for happiness, what sort of life shall she choose to insure happiness?

This is one of the questions that the human heart has asked from the beginning of time. And no one, absolute answer has yet been given to it. Each must answer for himself, working out the solution to the best of his ability from the data at hand.

But one sure contributing cause there is, that will make both for happiness and for usefulness in life. And that is, to live creatively and not acceptingly. The human mind and heart are so constituted that to create is to make for happiness. It makes little difference what we create—a picture, a poem, a book, a table, a dress,—the satisfaction is in the creating, in the doing of some work we delight in. To create something that is the expression of ourselves, that shows forth some phase of our individuality causes us joy. What we create is the matter of individual temperament. One will find absorption and satisfaction in a poem, another in a piece of tapestry. Whatever it is, it is not the thing itself that we most rejoice in, but the act of making it. Perhaps this is because we are made in the image and likeness of the great Creator, and the ability to create is our birthright. But whatever the cause the creative life is the happy life.

Therefore the girl graduate, who is pondering the important subject as to how she shall fill her years, should think of this. If she wants the truest happiness, she should not let herself become an accepting creature. She should not be content to let father or husband or society pour favors and luxuries upon her, without making some return. She should not become the sort of woman who accepts all the good things of life, simply because she may be in a position for them to come her way, when she has done nothing whatever to merit them. If she does, life in a short time will have little roll for her. She may enjoy the novelty of this sort of thing for a brief while. But in time, it will pall. Or if it doesn't, it will mean that she has developed into a selfish, parasitic creature who has become insensible to the finest things of life.

And one can live creatively, no matter what line of work one may take up. One can create a home as truly as a picture. A dress or a hat is a creation,—and not in the present affected sense,—as is a poem; for artistic ability and careful, thorough workmanship are as necessary to the creation of a dress or hat as to the making of a book or the carving of a piece of furniture. And if our clothes were made in this spirit, we would have apparel that would be beautiful in the true sense of the word.

So here is a very large factor, in the making of a happy life, for the creative life has in it a sure element of happiness.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

WHY BE ANNOYED?

A VERY self-important young woman was being discussed by two of her acquaintances.

"I avoid her when I can," said one of the two, "for she always rules me the wrong way."

"Mercy, I don't pay as much attention to her as all that," laughed the other woman; "she just annoys me."

It wouldn't take very much thought, would it, to tell which of these two women gets the more pleasure and comfort out of life?

I think life is a good deal more subjective than most of us realize. Pain is subjective; witness how much more you suffer from the dentist's ministrations if you go to him when you are in a nervous and apprehensive mood. Pleasure is very much subjective; if you have any doubts of that just repeat some occasion which you took enormous pleasure in as a child. We are all in the habit of thinking that people are happy or unhappy according to their possessions and their surroundings, but I do not believe that I am putting it one bit too strongly when I say that these are really not so large a factor in determining a person's happiness or unhappiness as that person's mental viewpoint.

If you are in the habit of letting people and things rub you the wrong way, no matter how pleasant the outward conditions of your life, you will be sure to be often annoyed and irritated.

If, on the other hand, you can be big enough to be "just amused" by irritating conditions and trying people, you will be above the power of circumstances.

And not only do people who have this latter viewpoint on life find infinitely more happiness themselves, but they are very much pleasanter to be with.

Not long ago I had occasion to take a short trip with a woman of this type. The trip though short, happened to be crowded full of incidents that were not all of them particularly pleasant. We indeed connections right and left, and once we seemed doomed to miss a most important train on which our baggage, including all our hand luggage, had already been placed; and furthermore we were obliged to deal with an extremely disagreeable and unaccommodating woman. Now all that sounds as if we had a most unpleasant time of it, doesn't it? And yet my memory of the trip on the whole is pleasant. Why? Because my companion was one of those delightful people who always winnow the grain of amusement and diversion out of the husk of annoyance.

"The facility of being diverted where less fortunate people are annoyed," says Agnes Repplier, "is a rare birthright and worth many a mess of pottage."

Most heartily I agree with Miss Repplier. Refuse to allow trifling circumstances or unimportant people to have so much power over you.

When you find yourself starting to be annoyed make yourself see the amusing side of it, and laugh instead.

It really can be done.

What the Doctor Advised for

"Nerves."

"I have had a great deal of trouble in the past year," confessed a woman of our acquaintance the other day. "I did not mean to brood over it, but my health broke down and you know how wrong everything seems when you don't feel well."

"I grew to be one of those hysterical wretches that can't realize what is good for itself, but I not only was miserable myself, but I made everybody around me miserable. I found fault with everything, and thought the whole world was against me. I saw pooped everybody of talking about me; and I just about lost every friend I ever had."

"One friend stuck to me, however, and one day she made an excuse to take me on a visit to a doctor friend of hers. I'd tried about 40 odd doctors already and had set them all down as quacks or worse. I guess they had all set me down as the prime nuisance of their profession."

"Well, this doctor was a nice, fat, jolly man, and seemed so soothing. He didn't talk doctorly a bit and we chatted about all kinds of things."

"Somehow we got to talking about dancing. The doctor asked me if I ever danced. I told him my people were old-fashioned Methodists and didn't believe in anything like that, so I had never learned."

"It's the best exercise I know of," said he. "It isn't too violent and it puts you into happy surroundings. I dance a good deal myself—especially when I feel that I am getting close to the ragged edge of my nerves and must have a change or I'll do something desperate. It's wonderful how dancing will change a gloomy viewpoint to a cheerful one."

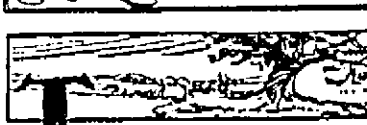

"Now, that sort of stuck to me, and that evening I astonished my husband by telling him I would like to take dancing lessons. I repeated what the doctor had said. He astonished me in return, by saying he guessed he'd join me."

"That was the beginning. We grew enthusiastic over it and in the new interest I forgot most of my troubles. We wore out the kitchen linoleum practicing the steps!"

"I didn't know that doctor had been prescribing for me until I had mastered the lye walk, when I happened to meet him at a Maple Sugar dance. 'Ah!' said he, with a grin. 'I see you took my advice. I thought it would bring back the sparkle in your eye!'"

"Then it came out that the whole thing was a plot between my husband and my friend. They had managed to get me to take the doctor's advice without knowing he was prescribing for me, because otherwise I would have been too perfectly mean to follow it. My husband paid a good-sized bill for it, too, but he said it was worth the cost of the dancing lessons thrown in."

GOOD THINGS.

A most appetizing breakfast dish is toast with a white sauce generously seasoned with cheese and poured over it.

Vermicelli added to a white sauce or a tomato sauce is another good dish for luncheon, on toast.

If there is a daughter or son away at college, a chicken or small turkey, or duck, roasted in a paper bag, and sent packed in a new one, to be used in warming it up if desired, will cause a son or daughter to "rise up and call his mother blessed."

Another dainty for that box of goodies is a nice cake. One that will keep moist for several days, is the most satisfactory.

The layer cake of three layers, the middle one of fruit and spices, put together with orange filling is especially inviting, and it will surely not last long enough to dry.

Home made candy and some of mother's good cookies, with a package of thinly-sliced dried beef, should not be forgotten in packing the box.

A jar or two of jam will delight the heart of a boy, and his friends will appreciate it as much as he.

Dato cookies are another choice addition. Bake oatmeal cookies and put them together with stewed dates that have been seasoned with lemon juice.

One has the individual taste to help decide what is best to send in the box.

The following is a cake that many would find too expensive, but for such an occasion it will add to the pleasure. If the pocketbook is deep enough:

Macmillan Cake.—Take two cups of powdered sugar, one cup of blackberry jam, one cup of sweet milk, two thirds of a cup of softened butter, five eggs or the yokes of twelve, two teaspoons of baking powder, spices to taste; mix all together and bake in layers. Put together with raisins and nuts and boiling frosting.

Fads and Fashions

New York, May 27.—The weather is still raw and wintry. But the shops catering to woman's fashion are anticipating the summer season by several months and are offering the most charming and interesting display of summer things. Conspicuous among the summer things by their simplicity are the linen frocks and suits. They follow to a great extent the modes of the past few months, yet there is much that is new and interesting. Skirts are decidedly longer and fuller. The kimono sleeve seems to be on the wane. The waist line is about two inches above normal and coats are cut away and belted in. Belts, particularly on the linen dresses and suits, are wider.

The display of lingerie frocks and materials in the fashionable shops is particularly interesting and attractive just now and the variety shown is quite bewildering. New dotted Swiss and batiste are wonderfully soft and fine in character, and there are dotted voiles and crepes which come with beautiful border patterns. In making up a bordered crepe or voile, the border design is usually cut away from the plain material and afterward joined to it as a trimming by means of lace insertion or narrow entre deux.

At least one third of the so-called "lingerie" models this season have chiffon in their make-up, a fact which precludes their ever visiting the

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a boy whose father died from consumption. I think it runs in the family. Would I be doing wrong to marry him?

According to common belief, it would be wrong to marry a consumptive, thus possibly taking steps to pass on the disease to future generations. Perhaps the young man can cure himself by vigorous treatment. You can never be quite sure, of course, but it is well worth trying.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A young lady whom I like very well lives in a city some distance away and I do not get a chance to see her often. My only means of keeping up the acquaintance is by correspondence, and that seems unsatisfactory. She seems willing to write occasionally, but her letters are too far apart. What can I do?

I think I know how you feel. The young woman may cherish a warm feeling for you, but "out of sight is out of mind," sometimes, you know. The young man who can dance at a distance in person of course have an advantage over you, if you can not see the girl often enough, and the situation troubles you, why not find a new friend in your own town?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: On my right hand lives a middle-aged bachelor, and on my left are two maiden sisters. The bachelor often hints that he would like me to introduce him to the sisters, but I have not friendly washbowl. When chiffon is left out, dark net is sometimes introduced to give the effect of a dark touch on the otherwise light colored frock. Black net yokes and trills are often seen on otherwise white costumes, while some very artistic lace lingerie frocks are touched up with gray net.

Not so extravagantly popular this season and many "lingerie" frocks, as they are called, are made entirely of white with trimmings of shadow or Valenciennes lace. Such frocks are exquisitely dainty, but they are rather fragile for out-of-door wear and will never give the service that a lingerie model of handsome embroidery and batiste or voile and heavier lace will give. Most of the net frocks have lace on the skirt and some of them have as many as four or five rows of lace. Some of the net frocks are accompanied by gay little tulle wraps or coats which add a dainty color touch when accompanied by a hat in similar color.

Subtle and mysterious blues, lavenders and corn colors, produced by chrysanthemum weavings, are the fashion in shades at present and some of these changeable tulle ribbons are very expensive, because they are so much in demand.

After all, the simple dress holds a gratifying promise for practical women. It is excellent for cool days, for afternoon, evening and for traveling. It should be plain enough to show a perfect fit and give a background on which a handsome piece of lace or embroidery can be added. The most effective tulle frocks in simple style are self-trimmed. Pleatings, quillings and ruchings are the accepted ornamentation. This means two or three extra yards of silk, but when the cost is counted it will be found that the dress is quite economical.

The changeable and chameleon tulle frock is as popular for evening as for frocks. The darker tones being used for serviceable morning and general wear coats, the lighter colors making dainty coats for dressy afternoon and evening purposes. But the plain one tone tulle frock in lustrous chiffon quality are gaining ground and many of the most exclusive models are in this one tone silk.

Very likable and practical coats in black chiffon tulle are made simply, long, straight, cover-all garments, which gain individuality from their linings of picturesque flowered chiffon or marquisette and deep fell collars or hoods of the same chiffon. The quality flower designs of the Jany order are preferred in the chiffon and the collars give a touch of safety to a coat otherwise sombre.

One good model of this class has its collar reaching only to the shoulder point, drawn down from there in full bell folds to form the front of the collar and falling straight from the shoulders in the back to form a square full tab collar cape. Another has a deep full collar in the back and over the shoulders, narrowing in front to points well below the waist line. These models are made up too in colored chiffon and one in soft dove gray is particularly attractive. Fasteners and any trimming motifs used to supplement the colors are made from the silk. This self-trimming, shirred cords, bouffants, ruffles, etc., is of course characteristic of tulle and is very effective, though much overused and abused in the cheap models.

Neckwear always plays an important part in the summer wardrobe, but this season it has almost more than its share of attention. Not only is the separate neckwear more than usually varied and interesting, but the neck finish of the modish frock or blouse shows more variety and originality than it has in many seasons.

The Perrot, or clown, ruche, and the various phases of the plaited tulle or lace frill have become familiar during the winter, but are more popular than ever both in single and double frills, the latter usually in a white tulle plaiting over one of black. Similar frills in any depth from three inches to shoulder point length are used in combination with close high collars of tulle, lace, velvet or silk, and a narrow frill finishes the top of the collar band, an arrangement becoming to but few women. These collars in larger sizes made with deep frills in black or in black and white, have to some extent taken the place of the neck ruche of tulle as long popular and are worn as separate neck protection with collarless coats or frocks.

Men and women are realizing that they can accomplish this so easily by using a simple, strong, HAIR REMOVER—the best and only really satisfactory preparation for restoring hair to its natural color.

Mr. Fred Thompson, of 222 W. 14th St., New York City, writes:

"About six months ago I had a bad spot on the very top of my head as big as the palm of my hand. After seven weeks of using HAIR REMOVER continuously, new hairs started to grow. They are getting just as long and are the same color as the rest of my hair. I shall never give up using it."

WILLIAMS DELIVERS MEMORIAL ADDRESS

GIVES ANNUAL SERMON TO
GRAND ARMY MEN, W. R. C.
AND SPANISH WAR
VETERANS.

URGES WAR FOR PEACE

Hope is Now Seen For The Time of the Nation's Disarmament as Predicted by the Prophet Isaiah.

Members of the W. R. C., Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish War Veterans, and the members of the Woman's Relief Corps, and of the Harry L. Gifford Camp, No. 21, United Confederate Veterans, gathered at the Carnegie Memorial Methodist church and heard the message brought by the Rev. T. D. Williams in the annual patriotic address.

Rev. Williams portrayed in a graphic manner the horrors of war which have rent the earth since the earliest ages. He dwelt on the purposes of these bloody conflicts which resulted in new nations, in the preservation of great ideals of government, in the birth and growth of religions and political liberty, and other great principles which are now discredited in our modern civilization. These things have been attained only after the agony of many wars and battles, but now in this modern day the speaker declared that we are tending toward an era of peace prophesied by the Prophet Isaiah.

To express the great antithesis between war and peace and indicating how they both worked into the great divine plan of the world's progress, Rev. Williams read two texts. The first was from I. Chronicles, 5:22: "For there fell down many slain because the war was of God. And they dwelt in their tents until the captivity." The second text was the great promise of world peace extended by the Prophet Isaiah: "And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and shall beat their swords into plowshares; and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

In the early days, said the speaker, the emphasis for all nations was placed on things military. The great men of the early days were great military heroes who pressed with armies to the uttermost ends of the earth in their zeal for conquest. Wars were almost continuous and the history of Greece and Rome and of Europe during the middle ages is merely the account of almost innumerable wars and battles.

In our own history war has had an important part. Our ancestors came endowed with the military spirit and they early manifested the inclination to fight for their rights, but of all the wars in the nation's

ARCHBISHOP SCORES
WOMEN'S HEADGEAR

Women and Girls Must Receive Confirmation Sacrament With Heads Uncovered Says Letter.

In a supplementary letter regarding the confirmation rules which have been received by the members of the Catholic clergy in this city, Archbishop Sebastian G. Messmer of Milwaukee, calls the attention to the fact that the modern headgear for women makes it impossible to perform the sacrament of confirmation. Women and girls must consequently come up for confirmation with heads uncovered or simply wearing a veil leaving the forehead open. The letter is as follows:

"The diocesan rule is still in force that no children under 12 years shall be admitted to confirmation. They must also be properly instructed. Pastors must insist on this, especially in regard to boys and girls who have already left school. If these cannot come to instruction at the same time with the school children, a separate time must be set for them.

THE COUNTRY CLUB.

By Howard L. Rann.

THE country club is an expensive resort which is designed to extract huge and annual dues from people who are exhausted to number their checks. It consists of a nine-hole golf course entirely surrounded by light fiction and the melodious gurgle of the Scotch lullaby. It also has a colonial clubhouse containing a buffet dinner, where a person can secure a very satisfying meal by ordering the day before. The country club is usually built at the edge of some grassy moraine, where the shy architect has a large aqueduct with the low-spirited whirl of water until it is a m. after which the water falls into a small pool and the Lochmora rebores colonial breakfast. People who attempt to woo Morpheus in a country club finally become discouraged and "was somebody else who is not able to be distracted by the intermittent appeals of the early-rising calf. The advantages of the country club are manifold. It is reached by a gasoline launch, which at some point in the journey sits down with considerable fervor on a sandbar and has to be pulled off by agile society leaders with a very poor equipment of leeks. The country club is also a musical center, where the terrified amateur coudes up to a self-playing piano and vents his spite on the outer world. The favorite piece of music for country club purposes is the "William Tell" overture in four acts, which after being burned in effigy several times in succession by some staid-limbed enthusiast loses a good deal of its early charm. The chief pursuits at a country club are making love and waiting the defenseless form of the golf ball. People who stick up their noses at golf are evidently not familiar with its habits. It is responsible for more bright eyes, tanned cheeks and adult bilsters than any other form of outdoor labor. The member of a country club who is in good standing with his middle and a clay tennis court is the nearest approach to a mountain peak of anything this side of the beauty parlor.

The Ideal School.

If you want to make a nation of "bookies" by all means cram the boys and girls in your schools with plenty of arithmetic, but if you would rather have a nation of good men and women, then train your children to love all that is beautiful in nature and in art, all that is noble in life or in death. The school of the future will be a beautiful building in a beautiful garden.—Clarion.

Only Problem of Happiness.
 "Real happiness is so simple that most people do not recognize it. They think it comes from doing something on a big scale, from a big fortune, or from some great achievement, when, in fact, it is derived from the simplest, the quietest, the most unpretentious things in the world. Sacred Signs Uncovered.
 Excavations at Nazareth in Palestine have uncovered the spot on which stood the carpenter's workshop of Joseph, husband of Mary, mother of Jesus. The Franciscan monks, on whose property the discovery was made, have bought all the adjoining buildings, and intend to erect a magnificent temple to mark the spot. It is also believed that the spot where Christ's transfiguration took place has been found. It is an imposing rough, brown rock, resembling an ancient altar.

"Morril" alone could have stood this test of time.

A GIRL OF THE LIMBERLOST

By GENE STRATTON-PORTER

Copyright, 1909, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

Wesley Stinton looked hard at Billy. "Are you twisted up inside now?" he asked.

Billy laid a grimy hand on the region of his stomach, and the filthy little waist sunk close to the backbone. "Not your life, boss," he said cheerfully.

"How long have you been twisted?" asked Stinton.

Billy appealed to the others. "When was it we had the stuff on the bridge?"

"Yesterday morning," said the girl. "Is that all gone?" asked Stinton.

"She went and told us to take it home," said Billy ruefully, "and 'cause she said to, we took it. Pa had come back, he was drinking some more, and he ate a lot of it—most the whole thing, and it made him sick as a dog, and he went and wanted all of it. Then he got drunk some more, and now he's asleep again. We didn't get hardly none."

"You children sit on the steps until the man comes," said Stinton. "I'll send you some things to eat with him. What's your name, sonny?"

"Billy," said the boy.

"Well, Billy, I guess you better come with me. I'll take care of him," Stinton pronounced the others. He reached out a hand to Billy.

"I ain't no baby, I'm a boy," said Billy as he shuffled along beside Stinton, taking a kick at every movable object without regard to his battered toes.

Once they passed a Great Dane dog lolling after his master, and Billy asked Stinton as if he was a true and cunning him with trembling hot hands.

"I ain't afraid of that dog," scoffed Billy, as he was again poked on the back, "but once he took me for a rat or something and his teeth cut into my back. If I'd a done right I'd a took the law on him."

Stinton looked down into the indignant little face. The child was bright enough, he had a good head, but, oh, such a body!

Wesley Stinton reached his hand. They were coming into the lawless part of Ombasah, and the streets were crowded. Billy understood it to mean that he might lose his companion and took a grip. That little but hand clinging tight to his, the sore feet, the hungry child putting for breath as he tried to keep even, caught Stinton in a tender, empty spot.

"Say, son," he said, "how would you like to be washed clean and have all the supper your skin could hold and sleep in a good bed?"

"Aw, gee!" said Billy. "I ain't dead yet. Them things is in heaven. Poor folks can't have them. Pa said so."

"Well, you can have them if you want to go with me and get them," promised Stinton.

"Kin I take some to Jimmy and Belle?"

"If you'll come with me and be my boy I'll see that they have plenty."

"What will pa say?"

"Your pa is that kind of sleep now where he won't wake up, Billy," said Stinton. "I am pretty sure the law will give you to me if you want to come."

"When people don't ever wake up they're dead," announced Billy. "Is my pa dead?"

"Yes, he is," answered Stinton. "And you'll take care of Jimmy and Belle, too?"

"I can't adopt all three of you," said Stinton. "I'll take you and see that they are well provided for. Will you come?"

"Yep, I'll come," said Billy. "Let's eat, first thing we do."

"All right," agreed Stinton. "Come into this restaurant." He lifted Billy to the lunch counter and ordered the clerk to give him as many glasses of milk as he wanted to be bleated. "I think there's going to be a fried chicken when we get home, Billy," he said, "so you just take the edge off now and fill up later."

drove up the lane. Stinton left Billy in the carriage, hitched the horse and went to explain to her. He had not reached her before she cried, "Look, Wesley, that child! You'll have a run-away!"

Wesley looked and ran. Billy was standing in the carriage shaking the little white horse with the whip.

"See me make 'em go!" he shouted as the whip fell a second time.

He did make them go. They took the hitching post and a few fence palings, which scraped the paint from a wheel.

Stinton missed the lines at this first effort, but the dragging post impeded the horse, and he soon caught them. He led them to the barn and ordered Billy to remain in the carriage while he unhitched. Then leading Billy and carrying his packages he entered the yard.

"You run play a few minutes, Billy," he said. "I want to talk to the nice lady."

The nice lady was looking rather startled as Stinton approached her. "Where in the name of sense did you get that awful child?" she demanded. Her husband told her Billy's story.

"He's half starved. I want to wash him and put clean clothes on him and give him some supper," he said.

"Have you got anything to put on him?"

"Yes."

"Where did you get it?"

"Bought it. It ain't much. All I got didn't cost a dollar."

"A dollar is a good deal when you work for it the way we do."

"Well, I don't know a better place to put it. I have you got any hot water? I'll use this tub at the elstern. Please give me some soap and towels."

Instead Margaret pushed by him with a shriek. Billy had played by producing a cord from his pocket, and, having tied the tails of Margaret's white kittens together, he had climbed on a box and hung them across the clothesline. With fright, the kittens were clanking each other to death, and the air was white with fur. The string had twisted, and the frightened creatures could not recognize friends. Margaret stepped back with bleeding hands. Stinton cut the cord with his knife, and the poor little cats raced under the house bleeding and disfigured. Margaret, white with wrath, faced Stinton.

"If you don't hitch up and take that animal back to town," she said, "I will."

Billy threw himself on the grass and began to scream.

"You said I could have fried chicken for supper," he wailed. "You said she was a nice lady."

Stinton lifted him, and something in his manner of handling the child infuriated Margaret. His touch was so gentle! She reached for Billy and gripped his shirt collar in the back. Stinton's hand closed over hers.

"Gently, girl!" he said. "This little body is covered with sores."

"Sore?" she ejaculated. "Sore?"

"Oh, they might be from bruises made by fists or boot toes, or they might be from blood from wrong eating, or they might be pure itch. Will you hand me some towels?"

"No, I won't," said Margaret.

"Well, give me some soap, then."

Margaret compromised on pieces of old tablecloth.

Stinton led Billy to the elstern, pumped cold water into the tub, poured in a kettle of hot and, beginning at the head, scoured him. The boy shut his little teeth, and said, never a word.

Nervous, Debilitated and Run-Down

Either the Rest Cure or Tona Vita Will Build You Up Again.

If you are nervous, debilitated, and run-down in health, there are two things you can do to bring back your strength and vitality. You can go to a sanitarium and take the rest cure, or you can secure the great modern tonic "Tona Vita" and let it build you up and furnish new nourishment for your shattered nerves.

If you know what wonderful results have been accomplished by "Tona Vita" since physicians first introduced it in this country you would much rather take this tonic than to go to any sanitarium on earth. Here is a statement from Mr. J. B. House, of 381 Twentieth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who has tried "Tona Vita."

"I was all run down, intensely nervous and suffered with the most violent headaches. I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually constipated. As soon as I ate anything my stomach filled with gas and I was distressed for a half hour or more. My mind was dull and my memory very poor. I contracted a cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. Sometime ago I talked with a physician who advised me to take "Tona Vita." I did it and am glad I did for the medicine was wonderful in my case. I feel as though I had a new lease on life. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy."

"I now sleep well and got up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work."

"My wife was also run down and nervous. She started taking the medicine when I began to help me. Her improvement has been fine and she is now in good health."

If you are run down and haven't enough strength to do your own fault if you feel miserable a day longer, when you can get such a preparation as "Tona Vita."

Smith Drug Co. is agent for Tona Vita in Janesville and will refund the purchase price if it is not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

To Minimize Accidents.

An interesting method of educating the public in the prevention of street accidents, which possesses possibilities in other directions, employed by the Boston Elevated Railway company, is commented on in a recent number of the Journal of the American Medical Association. The railway company offered a large number of prizes to high school pupils for the best specimens of verses containing instruction and caution in the way of prevention of traffic accidents on the streets which would appeal particularly to children. The plan created great interest among the school children, and a large number of answers were received. The company awarded about 200 prizes, the largest being for $50.

You Can Make Your Farm Pay 6% on $1000 Per Acre Value

There is one piece of ground on Frank Mann's farm, near Gilman, Ill., that for seven years produced an average of 5 tons of alfalfa per acre. The next year it produced 20 tons of silage per acre, the next 115 bushels of corn, then 88 1/2 bushels of oats, and last year 52 1/2 bushels of wheat. The average gross return each year for these eleven years was more than $80 per acre. Making a most liberal allowance for all the labor and other expense of growing the crops, there is still enough net profit to pay 6 per cent interest on a valuation of $1,000 per acre. Land is worth as much money as the crops will pay interest on.

You Can Farm Like Frank Mann

You can make your farm worth $1,000 an acre by raising crops like Frank Mann's. FRANK MANN'S SOIL BOOK will tell you how. —Decorations Notes: A committee was busy this forenoon searching for soldiers’ graves in Oak Hill cemetery. Our recollection is that about twenty-five soldiers are buried there. The musical exercises on Thursday next will be under the charge of Prof. Titcomb. A chorus of a dozen or more singers will be selected. Instrumental music by the Flower City band.

A Bad Road: Several of the residents of the town of Rock have made complaints to us about the condition of the road between the south end of the Monterey wagon bridge and the bridge which crosses the railroad cut at the foot of the hill. We see no reason why they should not object to the condition of that thoroughfare.

BY WALT MASON

The man who firmly takes his stand upon the corner of the street to tell us how to save the land, with arguments as good as wheat, should have the documents to show that he owes nothing at the store; for men who won’t pay what they owe don’t interest us any more. Before he stages his wordy strife about our national despair, he should convince us that his wife and kids have decent things to wear. Before he burlesques through his hat, before of platform planks he yells, he surely should persuade us that in some sane labor he exerts, the man who does his task in style, who helps us make the wheels go round, has got a right to talk a while.

QUALIFICATIONS

Little Champion in Prussia: The fame of the Little Champion reaper, manufactured by the Harris company has already crossed the ocean and an order has been received for a sample machine. The order, accompanied by a draft for two hundred Prussian thalers was sent by Adolf Johnson, of Munkbrarup. In his letter he states that another American firm has sent out one hundred and fifty reapers this season, but he thinks that the Little Champion will prove more acceptable to the people there, and it is his intention to establish an agency for the sale of the Janesville reaper in Prussia.

The men who have the right to talk, the men who work, the men who win, are never standing on the walk dispensing music of the chip. So when you see a guy arise to shoot the welkin full of holes, just ask him how he fixed for plow, and Sunday clothes and soap and comb.

Ambassadors are to be envied for their freedom from the burden of taxation.
